

ADVENTURE BASED VOLUNTEERING

Roving Reporter

Brief:

To work alongside our membership of community groups to write and publish articles that will raise the profile of ABL and the participating community groups.

Skills:

Speaking to community leaders, participants and fundraisers
Writing articles suitable for news, magazines etc. for publication
Highlighting the benefits of Adventure Based Learning activities
Taking photos, conducting interviews, taking videos where required
Encouraging other community groups to participate through media

Aim:

To raise the profile of ABL and participating community groups,
To develop relations with a range of publications, both local and special interest outdoors that we can write and publish articles for.

Time Commitment:

We would expect that the candidate would need to be reasonably flexible to join in on activities / projects and should be able to meet the organisation's needs within one day per week, although as a developmental role we would be happy for an enthusiastic candidate to extend the time span in order to gain experience or develop a paid role.

Interested candidates should contact Mark at Adventure Based Learning on 01457 871617
